INVIDEO 2019

19/22 September

This year INVIDEO, now in its 29th edition, is moving. From Milan to Crema. And changes its dates: no longer in November, but at the end of September.

XXIX edition

It joins the "Close Up" festival, with which it is sharing venues and dates with a view to optimizing costs and expanding the range of the cultural offer.

Crema is a very pretty small town - it was the natural set of Chiamami col tuo nome (Call me by your name) directed by Luca Guadagnino - which has offered to host INVIDEO in its "cultural heart", the Centro Sant'Agostino, which has cloisters, spaces for screenings, an open-air arena as well as a museum and exhibition areas.

We are very proud of this offer which we immediately accepted. After the reduced edition of last year ("INVIDEO in a day", in December at the Anteo) we have gone back to the standard four days: from Thursday to Sunday.

There will be an international selection from all over the world, events, VJ, performances and guests.

See you in Crema!
